HAS PURCHASED THE RIGHT FOR THIS County of the above Patent, and will hereafter use it in the construction of all the Vehicles manufactured at his extensive

He respectfully refers to the following
CARD.
Having examined the New Patent Shaft Coupling, invented by H. R. Hoagland, we feel pleasure in informing the public that in our opinion it is the safest and best method of connecting shafts or tongues to all vehicles that has ever been used.
It fastens without bolt or screw, and is therefore, easily and speedily separated. It rests on Gutta Percha so as to be entirely free from the rattling sound which so often disturbs restless horses. It is easily changed so that the shafts or tongue may be detached in an instant, and is convenient, safe and secure.
It is easy to change to this style of coupling any buggy or other vehicle now in use, and with small expense. We have come to the conclusion to use this new invention ourselves and recommend its use in all cases. We consider it far superior to the Brewster Patent, heretofore considered the best in use.

[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

DATES TO MAY 15.

New York News

NEW YORK, May 15.—The Universal Peace Society held its closing session to-day. Only thirty persons were present. The proceedings were uninteresting. The only action taken was the adoption of a resolution protesting against the present manner of carrying out measures of peace with the Indians, and urging a full transfer of the Indians to the civil authorities, thus making the Indians citizens, not outlaws.

It is officially announced that the rate on telegrams from New York to Great Britain and Ireland will be reduced to one dollar in gold for ten words or less, including the address and signature, and one dollar for each additional. Also, that any newspaper or combination of newspapers may transmit general or political news in plain language at half these rates.

The Mail says the stockholders of the Tribune at a meeting last evening determined to abolish the office of managing editor. Hazard takes charge of the paper during the day, while Lawrence Reed takes charge at night. Forney thus loses his position, but is not removed.

Letters which left San Francisco May 6th were distributed at the postoffice here before 9 o'clock this forenoon. The passengers arrived in eight days from San Francisco.

Washington News.

WASHINGTON, May 15.—About two hundred Lutheran ministers, who are attending the General Synod of the Evangelical Lutheran Church, paid their respects to the President to-day.

The following appointments were made to-day: W. D. Torrand, Consul at Callao; Geo. R. Maxwell, Register of the Land Office in Utah; and Bernett, Pension Agent at San Francisco.

The President's Proclamation has been issued ordering the election in Virginia to be held July 6th in the same manner as heretofore telegraphed.

Heavy Robbery.

WORCESTER, Mass., May 15.—The safe of the Douglass Ax Manufacturing Company, at East Douglass, was opened by burglars last evening and $15,000 to $20,000 in cash stolen. The safe was literally torn to pieces.

Delaware Civilization.

NEWCASTLE, Del., May 15.—A new whipping post and pillory were erected in the jail yard, by the authorities, to supply the place of the ancient and worn out one. It was inaugurated to-day, with the usual ceremonies.

Personal Items.

LOUISVILLE, May 15.—General Thomas leaves for California Thursday next.

BOSTON, May 15.—Parepa Rosa has consented to sing in the Grand Chorus at the National Peace Jubilee. She says she will leave the terms to the Committee for the pleasure of participating on such a grand occasion at the contract rate of any artist's work. The Colosseum is two-thirds completed. Five hundred mechanics are employed.

Land Sales.

ST. LOUIS, May 15.—The National Land Co. sold $300,000 worth of Kansas Pacific railroad lands during the month of April, to actual settlers, mostly on tracts of forty to one hundred and sixty acres. The average price was three dollars per acre.

Great Shooting Feat.

CHICAGO, May 15.—H. Bogardus, champion shot of Illinois, performed a remarkable feat to-day. He was backed to kill 500 pigeons in 645 consecutive minutes with one muzzle, loading the gun with lead, and to spring the trap himself. The odds against the successful performance of the feat was heavy; but Bogardus killed the 500 birds in 8 hours and 48 minutes, being nearly two hours ahead of time. The lightest score was 75 consecutive birds. He killed 97 out of 100 and missed 105 birds, making 605 shots fired.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

LONDON, May 15.—Johnson, American Minister, took his formal leave of the Queen by letter and not in a personal interview as reported. He had an interview with Lord Clarendon, Foreign Secretary, Thursday, when he officially announced his retirement, and presented Moran as Charge of Affairs until the arrival of his successor.

Reports, which are believed to be based on good authority, are in circulation that the French government will soon publish a peaceful manifesto and simultaneously reduce the army.

Malique is dead.

PARIS, May 15.—Political meetings in this city continue to be attended with disorder. The police are frequently obliged to interfere. Several arrests have been made of the parties prominent in creating the disturbances. The Prefect of Police has issued orders prohibiting gatherings in the streets and vicinity of meetings.

DUBLIN, May 14.—The remains of Daniel O'Connell were to-day reinterred in the cemetery of Glasnevin, near this city, where a splendid mausoleum has been prepared for their reception. The ceremonies were very imposing and were conducted by Archbishop Cullen. It is estimated that over 8,000 people were present, including many officials.

MADRID, May 15.—The Cortes have rejected the amendment to the Constitution in favor of making Spain a Federal Republic. The vote stood 182 against 64.

The proposition for the creation of a Triennial Directory, to be appointed by the Cortes, has been introduced and is now under discussion.

VIENNA, May 15.—The Emperor, in closing the sessions of the Diet, yesterday, made a pleasant speech. He recalled the situation in Austria in 1866 and compared that with the present condition of things. He reviewed the course of legislation of the Reichstadt since that time and rejoiced in the friendly arrangements made with Hungary, and the condition of finances, and felt that peace is indispensable to the national prosperity and the present relations of Austria with other powers of the world. He assured them of its continuance. The Emperor reviewed the late reforms enacted by the Reichstadt. He hoped they would harmonize and pacify the relations between the Church and State. In conclusion, he thanked all the members for their past exertion and expressed a hope that all would support the Constitution, as Austria offered full liberty to the people and right of every nation, and guaranteed their right of self government. The Emperor was often interrupted by loud cheering.

OUR SAN FRANCISCO DISPATCH.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 16.—Four soldiers attached to Company G, 21st Infantry, stationed at Presidio, left the barracks to come to the city on a spree. They went into Caspar Dix's Grocery store, corner Filbert and Fillmore streets and demanded liquor, which Dix refused. They left the store. In a few minutes a shot was heard in the rear of the building. Dix sent for an officer and a general scuffle ensued between the officer, the storekeeper and another citizen on one side, and the soldiers on the other. Five shots were fired by them, three outside and two inside the store. The soldiers became unmanageable. They upset all the stock, broke windows, furniture and crockery in the store and bit off the nose of Mr. John Moore, who assisted the officer. Officers were dispatched from the City Hall to the locality. They found three of the men lying in a vacant lot near by. Charges of larceny, mayhem, assault with deadly weapons and several other charges were lodged against them.

A man named F. H. Baulch, a native of Germany, died suddenly at his residence, on the corner of Fillmore and Turk streets. A vial of strychnine found on his table causes suspicion of suicide.

Col. Christopher Ferllen, who was on the staff of Gen. Cobb, many years ago, and one of the pioneers of California, died very suddenly yesterday afternoon, at six o'clock, from apoplexy.

Monetary

Gold in New York, May 15th, 139¼.

Government 5-20's are quoted in New York this morning at 120[illegible]116¾ for issue of 1862 and 1867.

Shipping

Arrived, May 14th, ship Ellen Goodspeed, 131 days from New York, ship Rival, 147 days from New York, ship Old Colony, 161 days from New York.

An Eastern Republican paper says that it is now an interesting question, whether the Quaker Commissioners will succeed in pacifying and civilizing the Indians, or become corrupted by experience in the Indian bureau.

New Trial Granted as to the First Count in the Fox Stamp Case

U. S. District Court: District of Oregon, May 15th, 1869

United States vs. E. Fox et al. Action to recover Penalties.

On February 11, 1869, the plaintiff commenced this action to recover from the defendants the sum of $1,300 penalties. The complaint contains three counts. The first charges that the defendants at Corvallis on July 8, 1868, sold twelve bottles of pomade, without the same being duly stamped. The second charges at the place and date aforesaid the sale of twelve bottles of hair oil, without the same being duly stamped, and the third count is upon the sale of two bottles of Lubin's Extract without being stamped.

On March 10, 1869, the defendants answered the complaint, and therein denied that they sold the several articles mentioned in the complaint without the same being duly stamped. On May 4, 1869, the case was tried before the District Judge and a jury, which resulted in a general verdict for the defendants.

On May 5, the District Attorney filed a motion for a new trial, which motion on the following day was argued by counsel and taken under consideration by the court.

On the trial the government witness Leander Quivey,—testified that at the time and place mentioned in the complaint, he purchased the articles therein specified of the defendant E. Fox, in the store of E. Fox & Bros., and that the same or any of them were not stamped. That at the time the witness, in company with one Culpepper, was traveling through the Wallamet and Umpqua valleys, purchasing these and similar articles at the various stores along the route, for the purpose of causing actions to be brought against the sellers, to recover the penalties given by law against the persons who sold perfumery, sardines, etc., without the same being duly stamped. That the witness was induced to this, in the expectation of obtaining a moiety of the penalties that might be recovered and for the purpose of compelling the defendants and others engaged in selling unstamped goods, to obey the law.

The articles said to have been purchased by the witness, were produced by him before the Court. These were a small wooden box containing 12 one ounce and a half bottles of hair oil, and a similar box, somewhat larger, containing 12 bottles of pomade, and 2 bottles of Lubin's Extract. None of the bottles produced were stamped or appeared ever to have been stamped. The boxes were evidently the original packages in which the goods were packed by the manufacturer. In the inscription upon the bottles and the brand upon the boxes there was evidence tending to show that the goods were of French manufacture, and therefore "imported articles."

In relation to the circumstances of the purchase, the witness, (Quivey), testified that he purchased these articles of the defendant E. Fox. That before the purchase was made, and while the witness was bargaining for the goods E. Fox opened both the boxes, so as to enable the witness to examine 1 or 2 bottles in the small box and 5 bottles in the larger box. That at the suggestion of Culpepper, who was near by, witness asked Fox to take out 3 bottles from the larger box and replace them with 3 smaller bottles of pomade from an unpacked lot of perfumery in bottles, then on the store shelf. That Fox made the exchange as required, when the purchase was completed and Fox nailed up the boxes and delivered them to the witness, who paid him for them. At the same time the witness purchased the 2 bottles of Lubin's Extract, which Fox took from the shelf. The witness also produced a bill of these articles, made out to himself, dated "Corvallis, July 8, 1869," and receipted in the name of "E. Fox & Bros.," which he testified was written and delivered to him by Fox at the time of the purchase. In this bill, the pomade is charged in two lots—½ of a doz. at $3 50 per doz., and ½ of a doz at $2 50 per doz., thus corresponding to the statement of the witness, that there were 9 large and 3 small bottles of that article.

E. Fox, one of the defendants, testified that about July, 1868, at Corvallis, he sold Quivey two boxes perfumery and two bottles of Lubin's extract. That the boxes were similar to those produced in Court, but could not say positively that they were the same ones. That he opened both the boxes that he sold to Quivey and showed him the contents and then nailed them up again. That before closing one of the boxes he took out three of the bottles and took three bottles off the shelf and put them in the box in place of those taken out. That the two bottles of Lubin's Extract and three bottles pomade taken off the shelves were stamped, but that the oil and pomade originally in the boxes were not stamped.

O. Fox, the brother of E. Fox, testified that he was employed in defendant's store at the time of purchase, and had been for three years previous. That he was not very near to his brother when the sale was made, but that he was in the store and saw that his brother was selling perfumery, some in boxes and some by the bottle. That he did not observe whether the bottles were stamped or not, but he was certain that they were, because he knew that all the bottles on the shelves were stamped.

This action is brought upon sections 165 and 169 of the Internal Revenue Act of June 30, 1864, as amended by the act of July 13, 1866.

Taken together, these sections substantially enact, that any person who shall make, prepare and sell, or remove for consumption or sale, among other things, any perfumery, whether of foreign or domestic manufacture, without affixing a proper stamp thereon, shall incur a penalty of fifty dollars for every such omission; and that any person who shall offer or expose for sale any such perfumery shall be deemed the manufacturer thereof. Provided, that when imported perfumery shall be sold in the original and unbroken packages in which the bottle or other enclosure was packed by the manufacturer, the person so selling such article shall not be subject to any penalty on account of the want of the proper stamp.

The grounds of the motion for a new trial as stated therein, are

1. That the evidence is insufficient to justify the verdict, and,
2. That it is against law, and contrary to the instructions of the Court.

For either of those causes, when the material rights of a party are substantially affected thereby, the Court may and should, upon the motion of the party aggrieved, set aside the verdict.—Civil Code, S. 232.

As to the 2d and 3d count of the complaint, this motion must be denied. Upon the question of whether the two bottles of Lubin's extract were stamped or not, there was conflicting evidence, nearly balanced. The verdict of a jury is presumed to be correct and should be sustained by the Court, if the evidence by any fair construction will warrant such a finding. (3 G. & W. on New Trials 1239-40.) Upon this conflict of testimony, the jury were entitled to decide this question of fact, and the Court ought not to disturb their verdict, although it might have come to different conclusion from the same premises.

As to the twelve bottles of oil contained in the smaller box, there was no conflict in the testimony, and the verdict in this respect corresponds with the evidence and the instructions of the Court.

It was manifest that this box was an original package, within the purview and reason of the proviso to section 169. What constitutes such an original package must depend in a great measure upon the circumstances of the particular case. It is apparent that the object of the proviso was to relieve the importer and jobber from the trouble and expense of opening the package immediately enclosing the bottle or other article and stamping it and then repacking it. But whoever sells these goods in broken packages is not within the reason of the proviso. He can stamp them without any unnecessary inconvenience or expense, and he must do it or incur the penalty for the omission.

Although the top of this box was taken off by the defendant Fox, it was only for the purpose of enabling the witness Quivey to ascertain the kind and quality of its contents, and before the sale and delivery to him it was put on again, with the contents unchanged in kind or quantity. Under these circumstances the defendant must be considered as selling an unbroken package the contents of which were not then required to be stamped, and to this effect the court instructed the jury on the trial. Then the only remaining enquiry is, was the package imported? From the label on the bottles and the brand on the box, in the absence of anything to the contrary, the jury were warranted in finding in the affirmative of this question.

But as to the count upon the 12 bottles of pomade, this verdict must be set aside. True, as to the three bottles which were taken from the shelf and placed in the box, there was a conflict of testimony, as to whether they were stamped or not. But as to the 9 bottles, which were a part of the original contents of the package, there is no conflict of testimony.

The evidence of the government, witness and the defendant agree in every particular. The package was opened and three bottles being taken out of it, it was sold with only the remaining 9 bottles in it. This was a broken package, and so the court instructed the jury. In this respect, this verdict is directly contrary to the evidence and the law. It is therefore the imperative duty of the court to set it aside. But it is said that this is a penal action—for a penalty—and therefore the court should not disturb the verdict, however plainly against the evidence and law. The provisions of the Code, however relating to new trials make no such distinction. The rule prescribed is uniform, whether the action be for a penalty or upon a contract. If the evidence be insufficient to justify the verdict, or the same be against law, it should be set aside.

It may here be admitted, that what is so [illegible] called "the justice of the case," is also to be considered by the court upon an application for a new trial. But what is this "justice of the case," unless it be the rights which the law would give or withhold from the parties, regardless of any technical advantage which one may chance to obtain over the other. Considered in this light, "the justice" of this case is with the plaintiff, so far as the penalties arising from the sale of the 9 unstamped bottles of pomade is concerned. The defendant upon his own testimony sold them in a broken package without stamps, and [thereb]y incurred these penalties, which the United States has as good a right to recover from him as he has to the profits on the sales of his goods. Nor is the "justice of the case" in any manner affected by the fact, that the United States has seen proper to provide, that a moiety of these penalties, when recovered, shall be given to the person who gave information of the violation of the law, by which they were incurred. With the policy or impolicy of imposing these penalties the Court has nothing to do. Whoever has incurred them without fraudulent intent or gross negligence may have them remitted by applying to the Secretary of the Treasury. But, when in a Court of law, the illegal sale of of unstamped goods is shown, as in this case, by clear and unquestioned evidence, the verdict should be given accordingly, and if for any reason it is not, the Court will not hesitate to set it aside as erroneous. Upon the power of the Court to set aside a verdict in an action for a penalty, independent of the Code, see Bright. Fed. Dig. 677.

An order will be made refusing the motion for new trial as to the second and third counts, and setting aside the verdict as to the first count, provided that the plaintiff will file a written admission for the purpose of a new trial, that three of the bottles described in said count were duly stamped.

Learning a Trade

When will our young men realize the importance of learning some kind of a trade? The learned professions as they are called are crowded with those who have no practical knowledge of the mechanic arts many of whom find hard work to make both ends meet Hundreds and thousands of clerks and salesmen are out of employment much of the time for the same reason and those who might otherwise become producers of wealth are mere consumers and who thus waste their lives and their own or others substance in comparative idleness Many a young man has been led into evil ways for the want of something useful to do or rather the lack of knowledge of how to do anything Thus both they and the community become sufferers and the catalogue of crime is increased Very often the blame belongs to parents who fail at the proper time to encourage their sons to learn some useful trade Sometimes this is the result of a false pride but oftener of thoughtlessness and indifference The idea which too often prevails that the life of a lawyer or a minister, or an artist is more independent than that of a mechanic is simply absurd for there are none who are obliged to do so much real drudgery as a professional man before he can hope to acquire either fortune or fame by his efforts Where one achieves success in the professions hundreds fail entirely and are scarcely heard of out of their own immediate circle It is true that industry and perseverance will accomplish great results in any sphere of life, but unless there is more than common talent—an unusual amount of brain power—the road to success either at the bar in the pulpit or the studio is a hard one indeed to travel To be sure, if a young man feels within him a yearning for any particular profession, it may be the part of wisdom that he should follow the bent of his mind, but to force him into such a position for the sake of avoiding the alternative of obtaining a living at some mechanical employment is simply condemning him to a life of servitude and misery A trade is ready capital to any man, which he may use or not, as he sees fit Only this should be borne in mind, that to achieve [illegible] in any trade, a man must be complete master of his business There are poor mechanics, as there are poor lawyers and physicians ministers and painters, and such are always unfortunate and unsuccessful Whatever is worth doing at all is worth doing well, and good work, in any department of business, will always command a good price An exchange, speaking upon this subject says truly —

"Skillful workmen find no difficulty in getting employment and good wages Still young men are unwilling to become mechanics Our farmers sons rush from the farm to the city, and enter stores, the [illegible] soon follow. The consequence is that while [illegible] is a scarcity of good farmers and mechanics, our cities are overrun with clerks A gentleman in Chicago, connected with one of the great western railroads, in a letter to a friend in Boston writes 'Try to persuade young men to give up this miserable life of clerkship, and learn some trade, earn promotion there and then success is secured. They might plod along for years in this office or any other, and remain in the same position and earn enough to keep soul and body together. It is a great mistake for every well brought up man to ignore the farm or the workshop, and to feel that his peculiar talents adapt him best to the counting room or an [illegible]' These words have the right ring. It already has too many '[illegible]' The proposed plan of a [illegible] girls and women can learn how to [illegible] and the like, opens to [illegible] opportunity. One of the greatest [illegible] to society is that of idlers.'

If parents would take this matter more deeply to heart, and bestow that thought upon it which they do upon many matters of less importance, it would be far better for them and their children. Many a father has gone down to the grave in sorrow [illegible] he vainly strove to place his children in situations where they might live without labor In this [illegible] to evade the law of nature and of God [illegible] is a sin which will not go unpunished To toil is a privilege as well as duty, for there are [illegible] so happy as those whose bodies as well as [illegible] find [illegible] and active employment.

The following are a few of the many [illegible]

We the undersigned [illegible] we have used Orton's Preparation for [illegible] the appetite for Tobacco and can assure those who are suffering from this habit that Orton's Preparation will certainly destroy the appetite for Tobacco speedily and permanently and will [illegible] the health and [illegible] Orton's Preparation or any other make

[illegible] Dec 14 1868

For about [illegible] I had been an inveterate chewer [illegible] Becoming satisfied that the excessive use of this article was not only impairing my health [illegible] of checking myself if the habit [illegible] destroying the appetite [illegible] I sent to [illegible] for a box of the medicine which I received through the mail on the [illegible] of November A month has not elapsed and yet the medicine has effectually relieved me from any yearning or desire to use Tobacco in any form The Preparation is not more difficult or unpleasant to take than to commence chewing gum I conscientiously believe the Preparation will have the promised and desired effect in every instance where it is given a fair trial Upon that belief and from an honest desire to assist those who wish to break away from the slavish appetite for Tobacco I offer this testimonial

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.

NEW REMEDIES NEW REMEDIES

Dr Gibbon's Dispensary,

623 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases such as Gonorrhea, Gleet Stricture Syphilis in all its forms Seminal Weakness Impotency, etc Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs [illegible] fully treated

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons both male and female are there who are suffering out a [illegible] existence from the effects of secret indulgence, or from [illegible] absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid, bloated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions disqualifying them for the happiness of [illegible] or the enjoyment of life In this horrid [illegible] thousands suffer until death closes the scene Let parents guardians friends attend to those who are [illegible] any of these horrible life-destroying [illegible] they are cared for and cured before it be too late [illegible] them immediately to Doctor Gibbon who has made private disease his especial study for years, [illegible] is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs It is important to [illegible] who are afflicted or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends to be careful of the many [illegible] tended doctors who infest all cities publishing their [illegible] to curing all diseases in a few days [illegible] public by using the names of eminent physicians [illegible] Europe and other places Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry or you may fall into the hands of [illegible] charlatans

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions the consequence of [illegible] solitary vice or depraved sexual indulgence, is [illegible] by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited [illegible] producing with unerring certainty the following train of morbid symptoms unless combatted by [illegible] medical measures viz Sallow countenance, dark [illegible] the eyes pain in the head ringing in the ears, noise [illegible] the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, [illegible] about the loins weakness of the limbs, confused [illegible] blunted intellect loss of confidence, [illegible] proaching strangers a dislike to form new [illegible] a disposition to shun society loss of memory, [illegible] flushes: pimples and various eruptions about the [illegible] furred tongue fetid breath coughs, [illegible] sweats, [illegible] and frequently [illegible] not obstinate should apply immediately, [illegible] or by letter and have a cure effected by his new and [illegible] scientific mode of treating this disease which never [illegible] effecting a quick and radical cure Dr G will give [illegible] Hundred Dollars to any person who will [illegible] rily to him that he was cured of this complaint by [illegible] of the San Francisco quacks

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are [illegible] under any of these fearful maladies should not [illegible] sacred responsibility resting upon them nor [illegible] obtain immediate relief

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible and will give [illegible] patients a written instrument binding himself to [illegible] radical and permanent cure or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME by addressing a letter to Dr Gibbon stating [illegible] some length of time the disease has continued, and [illegible] medicines promptly forwarded free from [illegible] curiosity to any part of the country with full directions for use for Ten Dollars enclosing [illegible] letter or through Wells, Fargo & Co

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and [illegible] who, with bogus sworn-to certificates, dupe the [illegible] Some of the self styled doctors whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places are tradesmen and to [illegible] lazy to work at their trades Some are [illegible] makers newspaper carriers intelligence [illegible] etc Look over the San Francisco Directory, and you will not find their Medical Institutes in it, but you [illegible] find their former occupations in it Look at the Directory for 1862 and 1863 The only way to avoid [illegible] ton is to make enquiry—it will cost you nothing [illegible] may save you many regrets for as a [illegible] physicians in eight cases out of ten are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr Gibbon does not deceive [illegible] exhibiting bogus titles certificates pretended [illegible] letters etc Dr Gibbon will satisfy patients who may call at his office of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure

NARROW ESCAPE FROM DEATH.—A gentleman of this city, while coming down the Canyon road yesterday was met near the head of the canyon by a runaway horse dragging a woman whose foot was caught in the stirrup. She was clinging with one hand to one of the animal's bridle reins, by which his progress up the hill was somewhat [illegible], though she was helpless to stop him. The [illegible] called out to her to hold on to the rein and he [illegible] jumped out of his buggy and went to her relief. He [illegible] in getting hold of the rein just as the [illegible] let go, but it was not for some time and after a severe struggle that he stopped the frightened animal, and then he could not help the woman and still maintain his control of the horse. She however was not so much hurt or frightened but that she succeeded in getting up and extricating her foot from the stirrup. Strange as it might seem, she was but little injured though she had been dragged for a considerable distance. Stranger still our hero of the rescue did not learn her name, [illegible] accepted her modest thanks for saving her life, and came on to town.

FROM VANCOUVER.—We clip the subjoined items from the Register of Saturday:

On next Wednesday evening, at Metropolis Hall, the Union Republican Club will be addressed by able speakers from abroad. All are requested to attend.

A discharged soldier named Daniel M. Young sued Capt. Barry, 1st Cavalry, for assault and battery while in the [illegible], whereby he lost his leg. The cause was submitted to the jury at the last term of the court, and the jury [illegible] a verdict for $3,000 in favor of the plaintiff.

The following officers were installed for the ensuing [illegible] in Columbia Lodge, No. 2, I. O. G. T.: W. C. T., [illegible] W. R. H. S., W. Ammerman; W. L. H. S., [illegible]; W. V. T., Mrs. S. Mr. E. [illegible] has received his commission as Lieutenant. He leaves many warm friends. He is commissioned in the 1st Cavalry. He expects to serve in Arizona.

MILITARY ORDER.—The following special order was issued from Headquarters Dept. of Columbia, Portland, Oregon, May 12, 1869: Special Order, No. 68. Extract.

There are a number of representatives here from Eastern Oregon and Washington Territory, who, with our [illegible], will go up to-day.

CORONER'S INQUEST.—The body of a drowned [illegible] last Friday at a point about four miles [illegible]. An inquest was held the same day. [illegible] rendering a verdict as follows: "We, the jury, duly [illegible] by A. Patton, Justice of the Peace of [illegible] County, W. T., on the 14th day of May, to hold an [illegible] on the body of a dead man found on the beach near the [illegible] of G. La Du, in said county, hereby [illegible] that we performed that duty on the 14th day of May, 1869, and find the body to be that of David Hyres, [illegible] of Cowlitz county, W. T., that he came to his death by [illegible] drowning, on or about the 24th of [illegible] 1869, and that we found no positive indication of [illegible] on the body of the deceased."

FROM CANYON CITY.—The Mountaineer says: News from [illegible] City is not of much interest. An apprehension of a scarcity of water this season for mining purposes has a tendency to make a dullness in business, and [illegible] but little freight is being shipped to that [illegible]. The farmers have availed themselves of every [illegible] and sown largely of oats and barley, hoping [illegible] a market in the military department for their [illegible] products of grain. The amount of wheat sown [illegible] if it yield in proportion to former yields, will be amply sufficient to supply the demand for breadstuffs [illegible] and [illegible] weekly shipments in that direction from this [illegible] will mostly, if not quite, be closed.

[illegible] SPEAKING.—We learn that A. G. Cooke, Republican candidate for Prosecuting Attorney for the 3d Judicial District, W. T., and H. G. Struve, Esq., will address the people of Skamania County on Tuesday the 18th at 1 o'clock P. M., at the Lower Cascades in behalf of the Union nominees.

Mr. H. G. Struve and other speakers will address the people of Clarke County, as follows: At Mill Plain School House on Tuesday, May 25th, 1 P. M., at School House [illegible] settlement) Wednesday, May 26th, 1 P. M., Union Ridge school house, Thursday, May 27th, 1 P. M.

DEAD MAN FOUND.—Mr. J. Hook, Coroner of Washington County, writes us, May 15th: "I was called to hold an inquest upon the body of an unknown man found dead on the old Portland road, within a few rods of John Hall's [illegible], on the 14th inst. He was very much decomposed, having apparently been dead several days. There was nothing about him whereby he could be recognized. He was about five feet six inches in height, dark hair and [illegible], and in soldier's fatigue clothes and a pair of new boots, and was about thirty five years of age. Supposed to be of Dutch descent."

OVER.—We find in the Vancouver Register a card from Mr. Thos. J. Fletcher, hitherto a prominent [illegible], and who says he is still a Democrat, but who [illegible] himself in favor of the election of Mr. Garfielde. [illegible] he used all honorable means to secure the nomination of Gov. Moore, thinking that he (Moore) was in the interest of the East Side Railroad in Oregon and the Union Branch Road, but he has since become satisfied that he would vote to serve the railroad interests of [illegible] gton Territory, he must vote for Garfielde.

FOR EUROPE.—Mr. R. R. Thompson and family leave this morning for an overland trip to the Eastern States, and thence for Europe, where they intend to remain some [illegible]. Mr. Thompson is one of our earliest citizens, and is about as thoroughly as any other identified with the interests of Oregon. The numerous friends of the family will unite in wishing them good speed and a safe return.

PICNIC POSTPONED.—In consequence of the unfavorable aspect of the weather on Saturday the Turn Verein decided upon a postponement of their annual picnic till next Sunday. UNITED STATES CIRCUIT COURT.—DEADY, J.—The following are the proceedings of Saturday:

James B. Newby vs. Oregon Central Railroad Co. et al. In equity; hearing on demurrer to the complaint. Hill for complainant; Dolph for defendants. Argument opened; cause continued for further hearing on next Saturday.

ORO FINO THEATER.—The theater was pretty well filled [illegible] evening on the occasion of its re-opening, and the plays of "To Parents and Guardians" and "Jubilee" [illegible] and the "Loan of a Lover" were performed [illegible] to the entire satisfaction of the audience. The same bill will be presented this evening.

STEAM TUG FOR THE COLUMBIA BAR.—The Commercial says it has information that a tug is being constructed in [illegible] to fill the requirements of the late law of this State, providing for a powerful steam tug on the Columbia Bar. The enterprising Messrs. Simpsons are the moving parties of the project.

[illegible]—Frank McCann will give a Sociable at the [illegible] Guard's Armory next Friday night. This [illegible] to take the place of the usual Saturday night [illegible], and Friday night is selected so that the dancers may have a chance to amuse themselves as long as they please.

England is at once the richest and the poorest nation in the world. She has a commerce creating an interchange of products worth $2,500,000,000 annually. Yet one person out of every twenty of her inhabitants is a pauper, and this does not by any means measure her poverty.

ONE POUND of Kanes Condensed Soap dissolved in boiling water makes FOUR GALLONS of very superior Soft Soap.

"THE BOWERY HAT."—This is the coolest Hat that has ever been introduced in this market, and is very much in demand in all tropical climates. The price is low, and is for sale at Mathiesons Bros., corner of Front and Morrison streets.

It is sold at the reasonable price of $1 00 per bottle. Call at "The Oregon Dispensary" for your Spring Medicines, for they are all pure, fresh and cheap, and will be vouched for by the most eminent of the Medical Faculty in the city. Everybody patronizes the "Oregon Dispensary," in consequence of the above fact, and it requires five assistants to attend to the wants of our patrons.

LORYEA & KALLENBERG,
73 First street, Portland.

MANY years ago the writer of this notice and an invalid physician, while visiting the Island of St. Croix for their health, experienced and witnessed many surprising and beneficial effects of the Rum there produced upon many of the invalids, who were, like ourselves, seeking health, and upon inquiry and investigation obtained a full history of its medicinal virtues. He was delighted and surprised, and determined to make it the basis of a Tonic and Restorative Medicine. The result of his labors was a glorious success for himself and suffering humanity, for the celebrated PLANTATION BITTERS was thus made known to the world, being an article of real merit, founded on new principles, and relying wholly upon the vegetable world for its medicinal effects, worked a revolution in the history of medicine.

MONDAY MORNING, MAY 1[illegible], 1869

The Tariff and Commerce

There are those who lose no opportunity of exclaiming that the balances of our trade with European countries are largely against us, that we are exporting our bonds to pay the difference, and that the nations of Europe are thus obtaining a permanent mortgage on American industry. At the same time those who represent matters in this gloomy light are equally urgent in advocating a removal of tariff restrictions so that we may import more, and by consequence make the balance still more heavy against us.

There is an inconsistency in this method of argument which will not bear examination. Our tariff is pronounced oppressive and ruinous, yet it does not prevent us from importing much more than we can pay for. There is a balance against us of one hundred and fifty millions per annum, which has been settled with Government bonds. Over six hundred millions of our bonds have thus been drawn away to Europe. Abolish the tariffs in compliance with this demand and increase the amount of importations, and how long would the remainder of our bonds hold out for settling balances? Probably two years. And then all our securities would be held in Europe, and those countries would really have a lasting mortgage on American industry.

Going back of the war we find that the imports of this country for the next preceding six years were as follows: 1855, $261,468,520; 1856, $314,639,942; 1857, $360,890,141; 1858, $282,613,150; 1859, $338,768,130; 1860, $362,166,254. The average imports for each year of the six is three hundred and twenty millions. Since the war closed, the average has been over four hundred millions. Thus in spite of our high tariffs we import more than we did before the war. We now receive one hundred and seventy millions in gold from customs; before the war the receipts were less than sixty millions. There is no American tariff on our exports, but notwithstanding this discrimination against foreign goods, we import more than we export. And yet it is urged that tariff restrictions should be removed so that there may be no bar against importing to any extent we may desire.

It is very clear that we must have the largest revenue that can be derived from customs duties. The state of our finances requires it. Our four hundred millions of imports now produce about one hundred and seventy millions of revenue. If we reduce our tariff one-half, we must import over eight hundred millions to obtain the same revenue we now get. This would leave a balance of five hundred millions against us, instead of one hundred and fifty millions as now. How long would it take Europe at this rate to absorb the last dollar of our bonds?

Our safety lies in increased production. By intelligent and combined effort the American people may produce vastly more than now, both for home consumption and foreign export. Take the single article of wool. During the fiscal year ending June 30, 1868, we imported into the United States 23,106,712 pounds of wool, mostly longer wool than that produced to any extent here. But it is well known, for it has been practically proved, that we can grow long wools in this country equal in quality and value to any imported, and that we are not doing so is an oversight or fault of our own. We import wool in one form or another to the amount of $100,000,000 annually; and yet, as a large sheep growing firm in California [illegible] from a practical knowledge of the subject, "this one hundred millions of imports are all of a class of long wool that could be produced at home for a less cost per pound than that which we now pay double the amount for."

A Lesson from Great Britain.

The facility of raising money among individuals which the redundancy of the circulating medium has afforded in the country during several years past has encouraged extravagance and given rise to an extent of speculation hitherto unparalleled. To recede from this state of things and put business on the old [illegible] basis is what is meant by getting back to specie payments. The process will, of course, result in the depression in the money value of all the products of industry, and before it is fully accomplished must be attended by some financial embarrassments and perhaps disasters. Such at least has been the history of Great Britain under circumstances similar to those which now surround us.

Toward the close of the last century Great Britain took upon herself the principal burden of the wars which resulted from the great revolution in France. The difficulty of obtaining gold was soon felt, and by 1793 the derangements in the internal economy of the country were so great that by an act of Parliament the notes of the Bank of England were made a legal tender and ordered to be received as cash by all the Collectors of taxes. It was solemnly declared by both houses that this was only a temporary measure, and in reply to some observations by Mr Fox, Mr. Pitt stated that, perceiving some suspicions were entertained that the measure was designed to be permanent, he must assure them "that nothing could be farther from his intention." Yet it was twenty-six years before specie payment was resumed. Preparatory to the return to cash payments in 1823, the volume of current money was diminished gradually, but in spite of every precaution the depression of values caused such a tightening in the money market as made the bones of trade to crack, and produced many failures. The abundance of money had led to enormous speculations, and a condition of things existed very similar to what has been seen in this country since the circulating medium became inflated. And in passing to specie payments we shall in all probability receive similar proof of the unsoundness and impolicy of the paper money system.

Loans were received in England in current money, but so great was the premium on gold that for every hundred pounds issued in certificates of indebtedness only sixty pounds was actually realized by the treasury. Thus the debt of Great Britain was created under circumstances precisely similar to the creation of our own. But it has never been proposed in Great Britain to repudiate this debt or to pay it at less than its face in coin. But then they have no party in faction there who are willing to dishonor the country and forever ruin its credit for the sake of a partisan triumph.

The great tumble bug of Polk county, Ben Hayden, has gone carpet bagging over in Washington Territory for the carpet-bagger Moore. Ben goes over, as we learn, to show the people by an awful example, what the nigger and Chinaman are to be brought to by becoming his equals.

Disciples of 98

The Salem Press [illegible] Beriah Brown [illegible] is still in great distress on the subject of consolidation. That paper [illegible] its co-laborers in the Democratic [illegible] cannot endure to see a Government with power enough to enforce its authority, and so soon as it was [illegible] that our Government had this power they began to see [illegible] consolidation [illegible]. The first [illegible] harmless enthusiasm [illegible] they have kept up [illegible] ten years. The Press in its last issue [illegible] more than [illegible] strong [illegible] of this lamentation [illegible] Democratic theory of the powers of the Government is exploded and rejected and the old Federal theory substituted in its place.

Now the intelligent citizen and attentive reader of history does not think that the reintroduction of the old Federal theory foreshadows the ruin of the Republic. Considering that the Government was founded on Federal principles and conducted upon them during the first twelve years of its existence it may be assumed that the ideas of the old Federal party, as regards the rights and powers of the Government are tolerably safe to follow. The Federal party made some mistakes as to policy which the Republican party is careful to avoid, but in the general interpretation of the powers conferred on the Government by the Constitution the Republican party acts wisely in adopting Federal views. Indeed the Republican party could not do otherwise than adopt them. The war forced them into it. It was demonstrated that the Government could not be maintained except by asserting for it the same powers which were asserted by those who founded it. The Democratic theory had ended in disintegration, anarchy and civil war. That party was unable to carry on the Government for them. It knew no way of suppressing a rebellion, and because the Republican party found a way of suppressing it Democracy has ever since been crying "consolidation." This cry will probably not exhaust itself until the present race of old fogy Democrats is extinct and a new set come on who have never heard of the resolutions of '98. Those resolutions are "dead issues" in our politics, but it is probably too much to suppose that those fossilized Democrats whose faculties are incrusted with the rust of a past age will ever find it out.

Remarks on an "Impracticable."

The Yamhill Courier makes sport of the "impracticable schoolmaster" of the Herald, and does him up in very good style. We make a few extracts:

> The Oregon Herald proposes to totally abolish the Government of the United States and let each State be a free and independent nation. That thought is pure Pennoyerism and pertains to the Herald alone. Nor do we believe that there is a man, woman, child, Indian, nigger or baby that has such a thought or ever would have had, but for the brilliant discovery made by our friend.
>
> We have an admiration, of a peculiar kind, for the fool hardy boy who launches a small and frail boat into a surging foaming billow. We almost would feel a scintillation of admiration for the fool who rushes in where angels fear to tread. Even poor Gilpin, when making his frightful race, wrings from us the remark, eloquent and pathetic, "go it shirt tail." But when a man proclaims himself in favor of abolishing the Government of the United States, the bravery of such an attack so far surpasses the gallant assault of Don Quixote upon the windmill that the painting of lightning with charcoal is as easy to accomplish as to delineate, in dull words, the heroic fire of such a soul. Our beloved brother, of the Herald, who'd 'a' "thunk it."
>
> We trust that the Herald's man has been on a drunk.
>
> That paper, no matter what its standing, must soon lose its influence in a party, that is constantly striving to hunt up some Quixotic theory to force upon its party, as also will that party be regarded as stale, foggyish and insipid that lacks the ability to apply the fundamental principles to the questions of the present, but is always blatting about the dead issues of the past.

In General

That able Democratic paper the Yamhill Courier, gives this advice: "Mr Herald if you will dry up your repudiation doctrine we will be obliged to you. The people won't repudiate, and it is just so much of your valuable time lost, when you saw on that worn out thing."

Beriah publishes a letter which a patriotic Democrat wrote him in 1861, urging him to take a stand for the Government and the Union. But Beriah had no patriotic sentiments that could be touched by such an appeal, and he continued to render the rebels what aid he could from the safe distance at which he was situated. He seems to be ignorant of the fact that he is impeaching his own conduct by publishing this fruitless appeal to his supposed patriotism.

The enterprise of Chicago merchants is shown by the fact that their agents have recently been at Boise City offering to place upon the shelves of the Idaho merchants at greenback prices, dollar for dollar the very same classes of goods which have heretofore been purchased in San Francisco for gold. The San Francisco Call and other Bay papers continue to sound the alarm for the Nevada trade, expressing the opinion that unless quick action is taken Chicago will monopolize it.

The editor of the Herald pronounces "School teachers, next to preachers, the most impracticable class of men to be found in this country." Here we have the "impracticable" nonsense of the said editor, in advocating the abolishment of the National Government and in declaring that the thirteenth and fourteenth amendments have not been legally ratified, fully accounted for. Hereafter the readers of the Herald will please overlook the absurdities of its editorials, remembering that school masters are "the most impracticable class of men to be found in the country."

The Chicago Tribune of April 30th says Senator Sprague is no sooner extricated from one trouble than he is plunged into another. Under date of Providence, April 26th, Francis W Goddard, "late Captain Carbineers, First Rhode Island Regiment," addresses him as follows: "Availing yourself of your position in the United States Senate and abusing its privileges in a base and cowardly spirit you have, in your speech of the 8th of April, charged me with having deserted my post in the hour of danger, while a member of the First Rhode Island Regiment. Gen. Burnside having over his own signature denied the truth of your assertions it remains for me to pronounce you before the world and with a full apprehension of the words I use a liar, calumniator and poltroon."

Says the Commoner: "A day or two since we intimated that a foreign war was imminent. The OREGONIAN this morning with its usual self confidence and self sufficiency asserts that we are in no danger. The [illegible] then refers to sensational dispatches lately received and evidently gives full credit to their statements. Now will that paper please notice that the telegraph already advises us that the most formidable of those rumors, the triple alliance story, is officially exploded?" The OREGONIAN is confident there will be no war because there is nothing to fight about, because our Government has done no act [illegible] which any foreign power can reasonably complain of. [illegible] General Grant's Administration is not aggressive, and [illegible] all the nations [illegible] Britain, France, Spain and the United States are under very heavy loads to keep the peace. They are all carrying too much debt to go to war for nothing. The editor who allows himself to take the war off his shoulder by every telegraph rumor must have a very unhappy time of it.

The Pacific Railroad

The San Francisco Bulletin of the 10th says the last rail was laid on that day, and not on Saturday the 8th as was announced here. The wrong announcement was caused by the efforts of Sacramento to create the impression that the last spike was driven on the 8th, at ten o'clock, though it was not driven till the 10th. [illegible] Sacramento was [illegible] a celebration on the 8th and couldn't put it off. The Bulletin has the following dispatch from Ogden City, May 9th, which gives an account of a terrible storm on the Union Pacific, the sufferings of passengers and the dangerous condition of the road:

All the old settlers, Mormons and Gentiles, speak of the folly of the Union Pacific engineers in locating their road to Echo Canyon. It is on the south bank in the shade where the snow falls early and lies long. When George A. Smith and Bishop Sharp advised them as their experience dictated, the Union Pacific engineers laughed at the Mormons as not professional men on railroad matters. I am told that the river Weber in the lower canyon, has some winters been as large a stream as the Missouri. In 1861 the current in Echo Canyon was two feet above the level of the railroad. A Mormon elder says the road bed is actually built in the bed of the channel in some places. They have no confidence in the road standing even this year, and believe miles of it will wash away in the June high water. This would throw all the trade temporarily over to San Francisco, but would also retard the construction of the Utah Central road by stopping the iron, and it would be a serious blow to California by checking emigration.

Three of the bridges between here and Echo which I crossed on Tuesday night, two which were then considered unsafe, have since been carried away. The two repaired last Wednesday, and which I crossed and recrossed three times on that day, have both given away, and on Thursday and Friday no trains passed. On Saturday a lot of passengers got through from Echo to the next bridge above Devil's Gate. There the baggage and women were sent around in wagons three miles in a heavy rainstorm and the men walked. Some of the women and children were taken across the bridge on hand cars exposed to the pelting storm. At last they were all got across. After much real suffering, the women and young children arrived here, worn and weary and wet through, at 11 o'clock at night, to hunt for beds where there were none. They found it hard to find shelter. Five families came in yesterday through great suffering and injury to health and actual risk of life. After getting out of the cars they had to run what, to those who know something of the matter, is as dangerous as an insecure bridge—the risk of the clay and quicksand banks of the Weber in the valley sliding out, with the road and train, into the river, and burying alive those who were neither mangled nor drowned. Yet if a bridge fell it would be death, for the strongest, though neither stunned nor bruised, could not live in that torrent, or escape its grip. If the people knew the inconvenience of traveling just now—what it actually means to say "there is no accommodation"—they would stay away. To bring children to such suffering is inhuman cruelty. Three times yesterday had the passengers to make a portage, and they were eight hours in coming forty miles to get here. After all, it is fortunate, for by the injury to the road, or the fall of the bridges behind and before them they might be cut off in some lonely canyon for days; the only way out of which or by which food could be got in for the sustenance of life would be over snow capped mountains. The worst trial for the Union Pacific road through these canyons has not come yet. We shall not have, and may not for months, a continuous and practicable road between the East and West. The great hope is that the winter snow having been lighter than for these twenty years, the road and bridges may stand during the annual flood season, and be made good before winter.

RETROSPECTIVE. The magnitude of the fact that we may now travel from ocean to ocean across the middle of the continent within the space of a week can hardly be duly appreciated in this age of great enterprises and rapidly occurring events, but it can be better understood by retrospection than in any other way. When it is remembered that at the beginning of our struggle for Independence it required two days to travel from New York to Philadelphia, that messengers sent from Boston, after the battle of Lexington, traveling with all possible speed did not reach Philadelphia till the end of a fortnight, that the special aid-de-camp sent by Washington to Philadelphia with the news of the surrender of Cornwallis at Yorktown was thirty six days on the road, and that the death of Benjamin Franklin, which occurred at Philadelphia on the 17th April 1790, was first published as news in Pittsburg on the 23d May—when facts like these are remembered (not to come down to much later times when traveling and the transportation of news were still slow processes) we may begin to have some realization of the great changes which have occurred. Great as is the amount of fine writing and fervid oratory which has been expended in celebrating the most wonderful achievement of the age, even the enthusiast must admit that the theme is worthy, and that enough cannot be said or written to magnify beyond its importance so great an event as the completion of a railroad from ocean to ocean.

OREGON.

J Atherton of Dallas has a horse thirty four years old. He is in good condition still and does his regular share of work. His master thinks he is the oldest horse in the State and will take him to the State fair this fall.

The Courier says that when the water ditch shall have been completed McMinnville will be a good point for manufacturing, and considering its other many advantages it must make an important place for trade and commerce.

Says the Albany Register: Mr Scott of the firm of Hardie & Co, who has just purchased some ten thousand sheep in this and adjoining counties, has made a sale of the wool from the sheep to Messrs Beach & Monteith of this city.

A Salem paper reports that Joseph Holman purchased a few days ago over a hundred shares of Pioneer Oil Company stock. All the stock is now owned by four persons. The company as soon as the new seed is in the market will start up the mill again and run to the full extent of the works. At the present only the flax brakes are being run.

J H Blacker, living on the Willamette river twelve miles above Oregon City, informs us that on the evening of the 12th inst, as his wife and daughter were crossing the river in a skiff, they found the body of a man lodged on a snag. He appeared to have been 40 or 45 years of age, was of middle size, had on dark pants, checked woolen shirt and leathern belt. The body was in a decaying condition. The flesh was off from the chin and ear and the mouth, the hands were off at the wrists and the two front teeth of the lower jaw were gone. [illegible] by direction of the coroner the body was taken out of the water and buried [illegible] Mr Blacker. Nothing was found to identify the name.

From the Albany Democrat: There is a species of fever raging in the family of Mr Anderson Deckard, of [illegible] precinct in this county, which has baffled all the skill and efforts of physicians and proved fatal to a sad extent. Mrs Deckard was the first member of the family attacked and she lived only a few days. A week subsequent to her death Rachel Deckard, aged about eighteen, shared the sad fate of her mother, and on last Monday another daughter, Mrs Snodgrass of Harrisburg, was consigned to the narrow tomb a victim to the same malignant disease. We understand that a son of Mr Deckard and also a couple of young ladies who were frequently in attendance during the illness of the family are at present in danger, only afflicted with the same terrible and nameless scourge.

An Albany paper says: On last Tuesday, a son of Mr [illegible] Hartman of Benton county, while harrowing a field, was thrown from one of the horses and the harrow dragged over him, mangling his flesh in a horrible and distressing manner. Dr. [illegible] Hill of that city was sent for and dressed his wounds, and he is at present in a fair way to recover.

Thomas Tomlinson, a seaman, was put ashore last winter at the mouth of the Umpqua river by Capt Hewett of the steamship Pacific. Tomlinson had the small pox and was left without medical attendance. He recently brought suit at San Francisco for damages against Capt. Hewett and recovered $[illegible]. The man who gave him shelter at the mouth of the Umpqua river took the disease and died. Judge Hoffman of the U S District Court, in delivering judgment in favor of Tomlinson, said that it was difficult to imagine a stronger case of utter disregard by a master of the rights of the [illegible] seaman [illegible] when he exposed it to the infection of a malignant disease, and of the dictates of common humanity.

THE WEST

There are fifteen tunnels on the Central Pacific railway.

The Queen's birthday, the 24th inst., will be celebrated in grand style at Victoria.

A Good Templars Hall, 70 by 80 feet, two stories high, to cost $2,[illegible]00, is to be erected at Port Townsend.

A contract has been made at Victoria for the shipment of a large quantity of spars from British Columbia to England.

A man named William Laughton, a citizen of Esquimalt, was drowned in the harbor at that place on the 12th inst. by falling from a boat.

The news from Kootenay is most satisfactory; as the miners proceed with their prospecting the ground gives greater evidence of extent and richness.

The whale fishery in the waters about Vancouver's Island is going on with encouraging results. An average whale caught in those waters is worth about $1,000.

A Salt Lake paper finds fault with Brigham Young for selecting the eagle for his emblem, because "that royal bird is a monogamist." He should adopt a rooster.

The ship Great Pacific has gone to sea from Puget Sound with 1,700,000 feet of lumber and 300 cords of wood, the largest cargo ever taken by a vessel from those waters. Her destination is Callao, Peru.

The Sacramento Union of the 10th is full of the great railroad celebration which took place at that city. It gives a full account of the exercises, and prints the orations, poems, etc. The citizens of Sacramento had a great day.

Governor Flanders, of Washington Territory, has respited Thomas Rowland, sentenced to death at Port Townsend for the murder of his partner, on the 22d of June. Rowland was a deserter from one of Her Majesty's ships at Esquimalt.

If you want to get rich, says the White Pine News, invent some kind of a knife that will slice beefsteak and bacon thinner than the shavings stripped from a black walnut plank by a fine jog plane. It will require no [illegible] splitting gold leaf to beat some of our cooks.

A fatal accident occurred on Williams creek, Cariboo, on the 28th ult. Alex. Stobo was engaged with a Chinaman working in a blind shaft, in the Caledonia claim, when the water from the bed rock drain broke in upon them and the Chinaman was drowned. Stobo succeeded in getting half way up the shaft, but fell from the bucket and was either killed or drowned.

The Vancouver Register says: A vigorous effort will be made by the Democracy of Oregon to colonize W. T. on June next with Democratic voters. But their efforts will be futile; every intruder is spotted and his name registered at the headquarters of the Central Union Committee, and he will have the privilege of playing checkers with his nose for an indefinite period of time.

The Victoria British Columbian notices the charges so unscrupulously made against Mr Garfielde of Washington Territory, to the effect that while in British Columbia in 1862 he swore allegiance to the British Government, avowed a sympathy for the South, etc., and says that without espousing one side or the other, it must declare in common justice to Mr. Garfielde, that these charges are utterly groundless.

The expedition which sailed from Victoria to Barclay Sound to investigate the circumstances attending the loss of the ship John Bright, found the wreck, split into three pieces, lying amongst the boulders, about two and a half miles from the Indian village, having let go both anchors, both of which must have afterwards dragged. The keel and floor lay on the beach at about half tide, and the upper portions, together with the lumber which composed the cargo of the ill fated ship, is piled up at high water mark.

Late advices state that the fire in the Bellingham Bay coal mines appears to be extending. The barkentine Victor, from San Francisco, was unable to get a cargo of coal the other day, and a similar disappointment awaits the ship Amethyst and several other vessels now on the way up from San Francisco for cargoes. The fires that have from time to time occurred in this mine arose from spontaneous combustion. About two years ago all work was discontinued and the water from the bay turned into the shafts, which had the effect of drowning the flames, but then it took several steam engines of large capacity nine months to pump the water out again. So between the two elements it is difficult to determine which is to be preferred.

He referred with pleasure to the conciliation of Hungary and the new laws enacted on various subjects. THE RAILROAD TERMINUS.—By the arrival of the steamer [illegible] it will be positively known where the Railroad Terminus on the Sound will be established, and before long an army of men equal to that of the grand Pacific Railroad will be employed who will build the road with all possible speed. The Depot, without further doubt, will be established at the well known house of KOHN & FISHER, No. 91 Front street, where the finest, best and most elegant stock of Clothing, Gents Furnishing Goods and Fine Goods can always be had at such low prices that the most fastidious purchasers must be pleased.
